ACADEMIC DEV-EDITOR & WRITING COACH

I've been developmental editing and writing for clients for the past six years. Most of my clients are academics and nonfiction writers. They range from working professionals, such as curators in need of polishing a proposal or article, scholars with a hard deadline for a Revise & Resubmit (R&R) and tenure-track professors publishing their first book, to doctoral students finishing their dissertations.

HOW I CAN HELP:

- Navigating conflicting comments on a Revise & Resubmit for peer-review manuscripts
- Manuscript organization and flow: I will ensure your paper follows an internal logic that allows the reader to focus on the nuances of your article, not its structure.
- Introduction and Conclusions: It's easy to get lost in the forest and unable to see the individual trees of your argument. I work with you to find your most important points and make sure they come first (and last).

WHAT IT'S LIKE TO WORK WITH ME:

- I'm a writer first, and an academic second. This means I focus on the craft of writing so your argument shines.
- Excellent track-record with successful peer-review manuscripts, and loyal clients. Read about my Client Success Stores.
- Upfront pricing: if your editing needs don't fall into one of the three most-common packages, I will make a custom quote for you before we get started.
- Prompt turn-around time and deadline success: I strive to get my clients feedback on the original date promised.

EDITING SERVICES

Dev-editors are academics best kept secret for speeding up publishing trajectories and meeting external deadlines.

I help academic and nonfiction writers clearly explain their arguments and research.

Most of my clients hire me on a per project basis, specifically manuscript preparation and finalization for peer-review and chapter-length articles. See the next page for packages and prices. In addition, I offer custom quotes for the following editing services:

Short

Projects

- ~2,000 words
- Abstracts
  - Personal Statements
  - Author Bios
  - Curriculum Vitae

Medium

Projects

- ~4,000 - 6,000 words
- Peer-review manuscripts
  - Book Chapters
  - Fellowship Proposals
  - Grant Applications
  - Research Statements
  - Dissertation Proposals

Long

Projects

- Book-length manuscripts for academic presses
- Nonfiction manuscripts for publishing houses
- Dissertations
